

SIX IN FAMILY DIE IN CRASH

Police Blame Drunk Driver In Tragedy

ALTOONA, Pa. (UPI) — A three-vehicle collision wiped out six members of a Williamsburg, Pa., family and injured a seventh near here last night in an accident which state police said was caused by a drunken driver.

Killed instantly were the father, Wilmer E. Hinich, 34, and three sons, Robert Zane, 9, Randall Clark, 6, and William Dale, 10 months. The mother, Dorothy, also 34, and Sonja Joan, 12, died shortly after being taken to Mercy Hospital here.

The only survivor of the Hinich family was 4-year-old Rodrick Kent, who was thrown from the car. He is listed in fair condition at the hospital.

Theodore McMasters, 35, Duncansville, RD 1, Pa., was charged with drunken driving and manslaughter. State Police Capt. Singleton Sheaffer said he would ask Blair County Dist. Atty. Park A. Loebe to prosecute McMasters on six counts of manslaughter.

D. Harold Troxell, Blair County coroner, said the Hinich car swerved into the path of an oncoming truck carrying bags of cement after it was rammed from behind by a panel truck operated by McMasters, who sustained only a leg cut. The driver of the truck, Lester Hall, about 40, Claysburg, Pa., escaped injury.

The crash occurred about 300 feet from the intersection of routes 22, 220 and 764, which has been termed "the Allegheny death trap." Traffic accidents have killed 13 persons at that intersection in the last three years.

Good Evening!

We're waiting.

We're waiting for the first one that says, "Is it hot enough for you?" It is.

The pools beckon. Not only for a refreshing dip but the fashion this year is supposed to be more girl and less suit. Next year it will be the opposite and all the girls will have to buy a new suit.

Six in one family die in a wreck in Altoona as the highway carnage continues. The tragedy is compounded by the fact that one driver might have been drunk.

How awful to have so many lives wiped out so needlessly.

The X-15 rocket plane passes its first tests as it prepares to fly out of this world.

It is going to go 100 miles or more high at speeds of 4,000 miles per hour. And it's only the beginning.

President Eisenhower has asked for an unceasing fight against prices going higher. Many of our pensioners and persons living on insurance returns would heartily agree with him.

The major leagues are going to play a second all-star game. This should cheapen what once was a mighty spectacle.

The players cry they need the money for the pension fund but is this the right way to get it? If it's only money baseball needs — and the franchise shifts seem to back this up — then they ought to play two world series also.

Union Objects To Transfer Of Bus Rights

A Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission examiner this morning heard witnesses for Local 282 AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union protest the application to transfer operating rights of the Neibauer Company, Bristol, to the L and W Transportation Company, Trenton.

The protests were made when representatives of the Layton and Wills Bus Co., Trenton, asked the Public Utilities Commission today for a permanent permit to operate buses between Morrisville and Philadelphia.

The request was made at a PUC hearing this morning in Bucks County Court, Doylestown.

Protesting the L and W Company offer, representatives of Local 282 claimed that the company should honor the union contract with the Neibauer Bus Co.

The Trenton bus firm was formed last February to purchase two passenger franchises from the Neibauer Company, it was testified.

According to testimony, the L and W Co. paid $18,000 for the Neibauer franchises. The purchase included one bus and some bus parts. Since the original purchase, the Trenton firm has bought additional buses from Neibauer.

Edward Popkin, attorney representing Local 282, said the union was protesting PUC approval of the Trenton company on the basis "of the experience of its drivers and the safety of its buses."

In the meantime, a "courtesy car" service initiated by the union has reduced the passenger fares on the L and W lines to a negligible point.

Edward W. Neibauer, president of bus company, said that his company has retained the franchises.

It was shortly after noon today. The newspaper office was quiet. The reporters milled around to wait for the first edition and scan their work.

A young girl walked in to live up the office. She is Judy Pennebaker, 17, of 22 Noblewood Lane, Levittown. She works part time in the office.

Graduated Last Night

She graduated from Pennsylvania High School last night and like any school graduate she came to tell her friends of the one big night of her life.

Five minutes later, she was seriously injured in an accident 100 yards from the newspaper office.

As most accident calls, this one was impersonal. "There's an accident right near your office," the caller said.

Routine, it seemed.

Routine, until the victim was spotted.

The pretty, sweet, high school

Judy Pennebaker, 17, is helped into a Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue ambulance after being injured in an accident shortly after noon today near the Levittown Shopping Center. (Courier-Times Photo) graduate, lay bloody and in shock after her car was involved in an accident near the Levittown Shopping Center.

Her white sailor suit was red spotted. Her red tie was darkened with drying blood. Her white socks were crusty. Her face was smeared with dried blood.

She sobbed when she saw me. "What's your name?" the reporter asked not recognizing her.

A Big Shock

"Hello, Maury," the girl answered. "Oh my God," the reporter said.

The accident lost its impersonality. The young girl was a personal friend.

No longer was it a story. She was brave and bit her lips hard. The Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad drove to the scene.

"Take it easy, Judy. You'll be alright. Just rest. They'll take good care of you." They moved her slowly into the ambulance.

"Put your hands under the blanket, dear," the nurse said. The reporter let go of her hand. She placed them up on the covers. "Don't leave me alone," she cried softly. "Call my mother, please."

The reporter went back to the office. He called her mother at Kresge's. The mother's voice broke in sobs. A friend took the phone.

He Tells Family

"Yes, what is it?" she asked. The reporter told her the story.

Judy's car was involved in a crash with a vehicle driven by Jim Allen, 23, of Trenton.

That is all there is to this story now. The reporter has to go to Lower Bucks County Hospital.

A sweet young girl is hurt and she's alone.

Quit Stalling, West Warns Gromyko Or Big 4 Talks Off

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western powers handed Russia's foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko an ultimatum today that unless he stops stalling on Berlin the present Big Four talks will be broken off without any hope of a summit conference.

High Western sources said the West was in agreement that there was no point in carrying the 30-day-old foreign ministers' conference any further unless Russia abandons its determination to undercut Western rights in Berlin.

Secretary of State Christian Herter and his French and British partners went into a secret session with Gromyko determined to have a quick showdown.

Just before this session, Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sidetracked the East-West issue long enough to attack a dispute exploding in the middle of their own camp.

This broke out overnight over French President Charles de Gaulle's refusal to permit U.S.

nuclear weapon stockpiles in France unless his government has direct control over these vital NATO armaments.

Herter spent an hour with De

Murville and Lloyd in an unannounced secret Western huddle.

An American spokesman said the trio conferred on "matters outside the Big Four conference."

Yardley Police To Set Up Speed Traps

5 Appointed To Sewer Authority

By ANTHONY PATTERSON
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Yardley Burgess Myles Furey last night announced that speed traps would be set up in the borough, "where speed limits are properly posted." In other matters he suggested to council that better parking facilities be set up for post office users.

The Burgess pointed out that, "We are always hurting for policemen when running these speed traps and I feel that we may have to call for some part-time police to aid in the work."

He added that the reason the speed trap will be started now is that it is "always better to run them while school is out."

Furey also suggested to the council members that a revised parking set-up be made in the area near the post office by moving no parking between signs north and removing two parking meters near the community center.

Good Idea

Council agreed that the idea was a good one and Council solicitor and secretary Frederick T. Bebbington suggested that signs be posted with "ten minute parking for post office users," listed.

In other matters, council was told by Bebbington that a public hearing would be held on June 16 in Pennsbury High School to discuss the economic effect of the Scudders Falls Bridge approaches.

James M. Mead last night was appointed to the Yardley-Makefield Recreation Board at a meeting of the Yardley Borough Council. Mead replaces Richard O. White who resigned. Council also made five appointments to the Yardley Sewer Board.

Appointed to the Sewer Authority were: Ralph Yardley, Louis Seplow, Andrew Jupa, Keith Dunham and Alfred Starnes.

Bebbington also announced that a hearing would be held in Philadelphia concerning proposed changes in the schedule of the Reading Railroad. The first hearing would be held on June 13 to discuss discontinuation of a train which leaves Philadelphia at 11:40 a.m. and arrives in Yardley at 12:30 p.m.

Second Hearing

A second hearing on schedule changes for the Reading trains will be held July 20, also in Philadelphia. This involves the elimination of a train which leaves Yardley at 7:08 p.m. and arrives in Philadelphia at 8:08 p.m.

Council heard a request from the Yardley Business Men's Club to put trash cans at strategic places in the borough.

Burgess Furey commenting on the idea said, "I remember some time ago when this same thing was tried by the Lions Club and the people just ignored them. Here we go again."

Council agreed to turn the matter over to the street committee for study.

It was also announced at the meeting that $40 was collected from the Continental Hotel and $5 from the Yardley Inn on a borough amusement tax covering pin ball machines, bowling games and other amusements.

To a lady whose husband is about to buy their next fine car

We do not believe that your interest in cars lies only in how they look. Therefore we bring to your attention some of the womanly graces of a vehicle which combines fashion and function in a most unusual way.

Calculated Simplicity . . . length without bulk, size without mass. Eminently acceptable, totally assured. In colors thoughtfully keyed to the shades you'll be wearing through the year.

Implicit Obedience . . . to make you a dextrous driver. No other fine car steers as easily, handles as gently.

Heavenly Space . . . for hat, legs, feet. You sit gracefully, head-high, imperially straight. Interiors of glove-soft leathers, textured tweeds, custom-woven broadcloths.

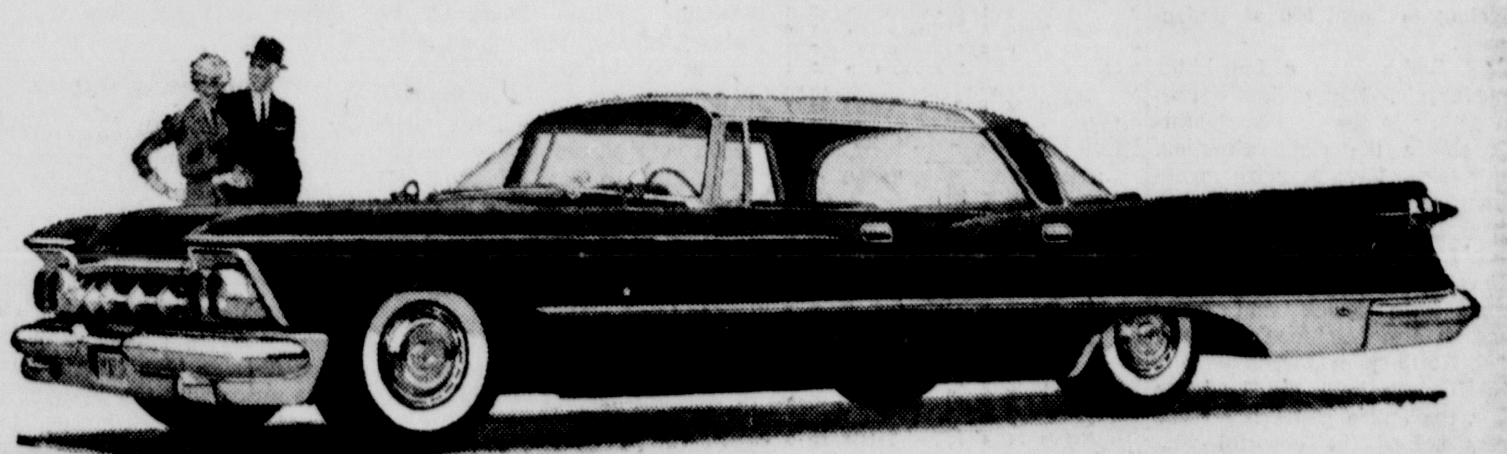

Enchanting Gallantry . . . specially installed swivel seats turn gently downward so you enter and alight gracefully, hat undisturbed, seams straight, hemline decorously in place.

Trusted Guardian . . . Auto-Pilot reminds you of the speed limit . . . and may be set to keep you at a steady pace, automatically, without a touch on the accelerator.

Fingertip Driving . . . pushbuttons move you forward and rearward. Pushbuttons control heater and air conditioner. Controls well in reach and self-explanatory.

We think you'll find such a car quite thrilling. It is immensely attractive, excellently tailored, finished, and appointed.

Its name is IMPERIAL. May we suggest that you and your husband compare it with the other two fine cars. We think you both will find the prospect of owning an Imperial delightful.
